Experience

I have been blogging in two of my personal blogs; www.creative-constellation.blogspot.com and www.wordstoworldblog.wordpress.com for over 7 years. Honestly speaking , I've been published since my school days and this legacy of reading ,writing and getting published continues even today, though the media of publishing has changed from offline to online thereby attracting a wider range of readers all across the world. Apart from my blogs, I too publish my write ups; story and poems in leading blogging platforms of India like indiblogger, blogadda and story mirror . I've an excellent command over English language and capable of producing high quality and well researched content in stipulated time frame. Dedication towards my duties and aim for excellence are two pillars of my work ethics.
