About Me –

Started my career as Software Trainee at Syntel Pvt. Ltd. In the long stint of 5+ years with this firm I was promoted to Team Lead. I faced many challenges that evolved me as a good team player, excellent at team as well as client management and gave me exposure to both domestic and international clients. I also have a profound experience of client interaction as I was deployed to client location in Boston, MA. With interest in Data and its driven tools and techniques, I became a Data Analyst to help organizations drive insights from their data and helps them to take data driven decisions.

To summarize, I carry the sound understanding of technical & analytical processes with excellent communication skills

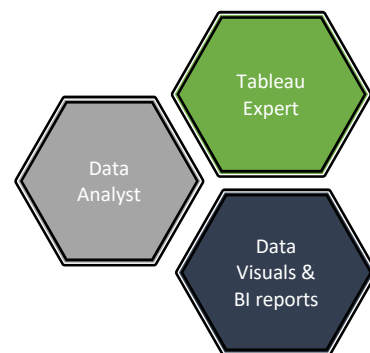

My hobbies are more action oriented, like driving, sports enthusiast, public speaking, writing motivational quotes etc.

To acquire a role that enables me to handle a team or an individual role to monitor and give data driven insights that helps organizations/managements to take data driven decisions.

Aspiration & Mindset

Self-motivated individual with a vision to draw analytical insights. With focus on optimization of the current processes and implementation of the best practices that makes work seamless in future.
